Dear Mr Martin

Review of Risk Management within the MPS

As part of the 2003-04 external audit of the Met Police it was agreed that an audit of the arrangements for Risk Management would be undertaken, to ensure the organisation has an appropriate approach to risk.

Enclosed is the final report for this piece of work which outlines the progress the MPS has made in addressing and implementing a robust approach to risk management. This report has been discussed and agreed with Nick Chown, Director of Risk Management, further we have agreed to revisit this area in twelve months to assess the effectiveness of this new approach to risk management across the MPS.

I would, of course, be delighted to meet you and discuss this is that would be useful.

Yours Sincerely
